

University of Economics in Bratislava

Address

Dolnozemská cesta 1, SK – 852 35 Bratislava

Established in 1940

SHORT DESCRIPTION: The University of Economics in Bratislava (EUBA) currently represents the biggest university in Slovakia which provides complex and integral education in economic and management study programmes at all levels of study.

“Since its establishment, the university’s aim is to be the centre of the economic education and knowledge in Slovakia. The education that is currently in high demand and that has had a long tradition at the university since 1940.”

The EUBA provides education in 61 bachelor’s, master’s and doctoral programmes for full-time and part-time students. All study programmes, including three study programmes which can be studied in English, French and German languages, are accredited and guaranteed by internal teachers of the university. They are compatible with study programmes of similar universities in Europe. This fact had also been confirmed by the results of international evaluation conducted by the European University Association, the member of which is the EUBA as well.

The university also pursues extensive international cooperation with more than 230 universities and colleges in the world and actively involves its teachers into scientific and research activities.

In the field of education, the EUBA aims to provide high-quality economic education particularly in engineering and doctoral study. This determines the university’s managing, but primarily content capacity in drafting forms and types of education, improving the qualification and performance of pedagogical staff and application of modern teaching and study methods for students. In accordance with these aims, the university’s management also adjusts and builds its organizational structure, i.e. faculties and workplaces in the new structure of fields of study and study programmes.
